The Design Mantra

“For us a great design is the culmination of a relationship between a designer, the client, and the space. We believe achieving excellence in design ought to be a dynamic, exciting and engaging process. From contemporary to classical, cutting edge to conservative, our designs speak for themselves. With our methodical approach, we focus on revealing the essence of each design challenge to allow us to create holistic and durable solutions,” avers Prashant, highlighting the working methods that they follow. Highlighting each work, Spline is engaged in using latest software’s available in the interior designing industry to produce much more reality-based approach presentations to the clients. To add more, ensuring complete client satisfaction, Spline has chosen project managers who make sure that the works in progress is discussed with the clients from time to time and if there is any concerns arise, they are properly conferred at early hand.

As a high end interior designing firm, Spline has worked for high end property projects. “We have also started working with the commercial offices and healthcare projects. We are recently bringing a health care project in India, in Kerala, which has almost 350+ bed capacity hospital. In addition to that, we are also working on some broader areas like high end exotic beach villas and luxurious penthouse in UAE.” he says. In the years to come, Prashant and his team envisions creating sustainable places and spaces that enrich the lives of those who use them.

“There is more to come for Spline Interiors, envisioned a greater avenue of design concepts and wider scope of work. With the great team, we assure of delivering results without compromising client satisfaction. The experience to be challenged and continuously learning on every projects is what held us together. We aim to be in the greater picture of interior designing industry and make our own signatures on it one day at a time”, Prashant ended. H
